We can only just imagine how many positive outcomes, creative inspirations and educational resolve will come from presenting such a wide-range of productive artists committed to sharing their gifts, knowledge and insights collectively. Yet, we know without a doubt that “...it takes a village...” to raise the next village. We feel that information combined with presentation is the key. Once again, thank you in advance for playing such an important role in the success of this project. We truly value your input.
